

MIKE E. KENNEDY BIOGRAPHYMIKE E. KENNEDY

Individually and in collaboratively thinking leadership team meetings, Mike's clients find him unlocking the brilliant ideas, outside-of-the-box solutions, high performance, outstanding results, team synergy and serendipity needed for their company to consistently scale and grow.

He works with mid-market business leaders to identify the problems and bottlenecks that stall action so his clients can create a purpose-driven focus and energize their teams for rapid and sustainable business growth.

"I love supporting clients to define, pursue and achieve their most significant strategic objectives and to assist those clients to meet unprecedented challenges within their industries by unleashing the people in their organisations to execute with excellence and accomplish extraordinary performance."

Mike, his wife Rose and their family, live in rural New Zealand on Lake Waikare in the North Island. Their hobbies and inspiration come from their community and cultural practices. They love nature and animals!

"My highest aspiration is to live a life experiencing the elation of being present in the moment. To that end I am committed to supporting people experiencing a life spent in the moment; being inspired, effective, empowered and joyous."

Executive Summary
