

MICHAEL MIRAU BIOGRAPHYMICHAEL MIRAU

As the founder of The ProActive Leadership Group, Mike strives to empower and inspire business leaders to achieve the greatness that lies within themselves and their organizations and to ultimately fulfill their purpose with passion and excellence.

His experience working with senior executives in large corporations, as well as small businesses, brings a unique combination of perspective, experience and education, to help his clients get improved results and performance personally and with their organizations.

Mike provides business coaching and consulting to middle market companies and non-profit organizations. He helps organizations get healthy and scalable. The ProActive Strategic Excellence process evaluates organizations and helps them get focused on the things they need to do to take their business to the next level. His coaching style, passion, commitment and skill allow the business owner to experience the progress they are seeking, say clients.

His group has worked with over 800 different companies in 85 different industries. His background in technology, health care, wholesale distribution and retail has helped companies eliminate waste and improve profits. As a certified Gazelles International coach, Mike utilizes the latest tools and technologies to help clients chart their path and then holds them accountable to execute their plans.

Mike Mirau's previous career included senior executive and information systems management responsibilities in several different companies including E-Systems, J.C. Penney, and Interstate Batteries. He also helped start eFANshop.com, a successful Internet company that was sold to Newscorp in 2001.
