BIOGRAPHY

OSWALDO ALVAREZ

Oswaldo Alvarez is a life and business strategist in the USA and LATAM, and has successfully operated ventures in real estate, healthcare, hospitality, finance, and airline industries during the past 15 years. As a mission-driven, owner/operator, he has held positions as CEO, CFO, COO Chairman, and strategic board member in multiple companies.

As a member of the Entrepreneur's Organization in South Florida, he successfully implemented the Four Decisions® tools in his ventures and after selling his most recent company, became a Gravitas Impact Coach. After losing his best friend and business partner to cancer, Oswaldo committed to embrace his fullest potential, connect with his authentic qualities, master the art of fulfillment, and help others do so.

The CEOs, founders, and leadership teams he works with praise his ability to facilitate a space of trust, commitment, clear vision, and creation, by embracing the principle of co-elevation; the exponential growth effect that occurs when two or more high-intentioned people collaborate to close the gap between where they are and where they want to be.

Oswaldo enjoys raising his two children in Miami and cultivating meaningful relationships. His hobbies include Adventure Motorcycle Riding, reading, writing and attending personal growth retreats.
